Working with Drainage System Maintenance Contractors

Before hiring a contractor, it's advisable to obtain at least three bids. Drainage system maintenance is competitive; you may save money by shopping around. Also, make sure you get your money's worth. Most firms have a substantial callout fee. Depending on the size of your drainage system, having the entire system cleaned may be more economical than having only some structures cleaned. Inspect the work performed to ensure compliance with your directions.
